This year's MassBio Golf Tournament will be at the renowned George Wright Golf Course in Boston's Hyde Park. Designed by the legendary Donald Ross, George Wright has earned its reputation as one of the top municipal golf courses in the United States, ranking third overall.

Bioversity will be opening a 4,000-square-foot workforce training center at Southline Boston in Dorchester in January. This site will host Bioversity's short-term certificate training taught by the MA College of Pharmacy and Health Science available to those with a high school degree or a GED. Graduates will be ready for entry-level employment in scientific operations roles across the Massachusetts life sciences industry.
